

REGISTRATION

Each morning:

- * Arrive for coffee and conversation
- * Sit down for a video of parenting instruction. Linda Anderson is a teacher, the founder of Mom to Mom, a wife to an oncologist and mom to three young adults. Linda shares many insights from her own experience, and teaches from psychological and developmental theories as well as from her strong Biblical background.
- * Break into small groups of 8-10 women led by an experienced Mentor Mom to discuss, explore, share, listen, laugh, cry and learn!

Mentor Moms are

- * women who have graduated at least one child from high school, encouraging other women in their relationships with their husbands and children

2009-2010 Curriculum - Inside Out Parenting

Inside Out Parenting - has a two-tiered meaning. As God transforms our hearts and shapes our souls as moms we are changed from the inside out and can introduce our children to God who shapes them as well. It's an inside out job. It's also a job in which what happens on the inside of our homes profoundly affects what happens on the outside. The values we hold, the relationships we build, the character we model - all of these influence how our children relate to the world outside our doors, who they become and what direction they head. We will look at what God's word has to say about our mission as moms - and what that looks like for 21st century moms. Confidence, community and character are all part of our mission as moms and made easier and more fun as we share our journey at Mom to Mom. What could be better than participating in God's plan and purposes as he changes us - and our kids - from the inside out!
